

CAPTURE A LIFETIME

'Buildings should reflect our feelings,' said Guy Ngan (1926–2017), a Stokes Valley visual artist best known for public sculptures and murals. Dowse exhibition Guy Ngan: Habitation (until 15 September) considers how place and belonging influenced the Chinese New Zealander. Pieces exhibited include nine of his 200 Habitation sculptures, which resemble miniature buildings, inspired by Roman ruins and Chinese calligraphy.